

Application Form

Computational methods and statistics in the annotation and analysis of discourse relations

Second Training School

Prague, Czech Republic, February 6th to 10th, 2017

COST Action IS1312

TextLink: Structuring Discourse in Multilingual Europe

The Second TextLink Training School is aimed primarily at PhD students, but is also open to postdoctoral researchers, master's-degree students, and others. However, places are limited, and priority will be given to PhD students and young researchers of the institutions participating in TextLink (COST Action IS1312).

Fill in the details below and send the form by November 1st 2016 to Jiří Mírovský:
mirovsky@ufal.mff.cuni.cz

Name:

E-mail address:

Contact phone number:

Affiliation:

Institution:

Department/School/Faculty:

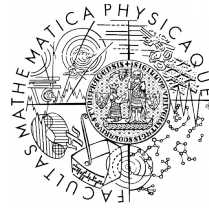

Research Group:

Are you a:

- PhD student
- Postdoc
- Master student
- Other (please specify):

Your research topic area:

Are you a member of TextLink? YES/NO

Supervisor, Principal Investigator of your group or other research leader:

Name:

E-mail:

Member of TextLink? YES/NO

General information:

Do you have any experience on annotating discourse? YES/NO

If yes,

1. which theory do you work with?
2. which tool(s) do you use?

Which language(s) do you research?

How would you describe your experience in using statistics in your research?

- none
- basic
- good

Will you apply for the reimbursement grant? YES/NO

Note that only up to 30 grants will be awarded. If you are not awarded a grant, will you still be able to attend the school? YES/NO

Briefly describe why you are interested in attending the Second TextLink Training School (maximum 100 words):